Ms Lis Bergmann
Executive Officer to Senate
University of Sydney

Dear Ms Bergmann,

Please find enclosed RMB Newsletter, University of Sydney Control & Therapy Article: Waxy Ear Canal in a Cat, Raw Meaty Bones and testimonials from former Directors of the Post Graduate Foundation in Veterinary Science. There is much more information at www.rawmeatybones.com.

Since the early 1990s senior staff in the Veterinary Faculty and the Centre for Veterinary Education (formerly the Post Graduate Foundation) have known about and understood the ramifications of the junk pet-food scandal. In my opinion the Veterinary Faculty and the Centre for Veterinary Education, by their policies and actions, become ever more deeply mired in the scandal.

The costs to pets, pet owners and the community run into the $billions. I hope that you can help investigate and resolve the issues and thus help pave the way towards a scientific, medical and nutritional renaissance.

I shall be pleased to supply further information as you may require and would welcome the opportunity to discuss these matters.

Thank you for your consideration.

Yours sincerely,

Subject: Progress of complaint against Faculty of Veterinary Science

Dear Vice Chancellor,

Please find attached documents in electronic form similar to the printed copies packaged and addressed to you and Fellows of the Senate and delivered to the Senate office on 21 July 2010.

The Executive Officer to Senate, Lis Bergmann, suggested to my wife and I that perhaps the packages would not be delivered to the addressees as the University had no budget for such matters.

Given the seriousness of the allegations and the value of the 24 books provided as evidence of the information currently being suppressed and rejected by the Faculty of Veterinary Science, I seek information as to whether you received your package and whether investigations are underway.

Thank you for your consideration.

Best wishes,

Tom Lonsdale
